
TACOMA FACTS CELEBRATES 15th YEAR

It's Happy Birthday to us this month and an excellent time to express our sincere thanks to the general public for your support.

The Black press is needed today, just as much as it was in the past for the purpose of interpreting and giving useful information to past and current events not only in the Black community but to all.

The staff at The Tacoma Facts believe that through this paper, we have expressed the needs of today in Tacoma, Washington, neighboring cities and nationally. We appreciate your continued words of encouragement.

We now take this opportunity to encourage you, to visit us in our very small but efficient two room plant. Greeting you may be one or two or all three of the women mainly responsible for the production of the paper and its availability of it each and every Thursday.

Jean Watley, our Advertising Manager, spends many long hours transacting business for the paper. Haven't you noticed the great increase in the advertisements? We urge you to patronize these businesses, tell them you saw their ad in the Tacoma Facts. Help us show appreciation for their support. In addition to the world of advertising, Ms. Watley is a journalist and writes the "Who's Who" column each week identifying the known as well as the unknown personalities, places and things in Tacoma or northwest.

The desk filled with books and papers belong to the Managing Editor, Virginia Taylor, this lady is the heartbeat that keeps the Facts on the map. She determines what does and does not meet the requirements for entry into the weekly newspaper. She, too, has a column, "Outside Looking In" where she exercises her special expertise in informing our readers of the currents issues in the world and how it may affect the community.

Another lady you that keeps the heartbeats beating is Vertist Edwards, she is the author of "V. Edwards Journal". Vertist brings the enchantment of social events to you as well as keep us informed about the many accomplishments made by our readers academically and in the business world.

Mrs. Edwards, also wears many hats down at the Facts, she is the the one you can count on to give up the team, bring a hot meal when no one can find time to stop and eat. The Facts staff is very happy to have Vertist on board for she is the same when things are going well or not so well.

Another counterpart responsible for this now 15 year old news paper, Fitzgerald Beaver, founder and publisher of the Tacoma Facts and Seattle Facts. He plays a low-key role with the Tacoma Facts, but he continues to make himself available to Tacoma as consultant.

James Henderson, our good friend, and bookkeeper who came back to help make this publication work. Mr. Henderson is highly respected and admired by the Tacoma Facts staff.

We give thanks to our feature writers, James Buckley, Attorney at Law, Ollie Taylor, Religious column, Malcolm Davis, Sports Editor, Willie Smith, Hair and Personal Care columnist, Kath ryn Thomas and Carolyn Neal and many others.

Our part time sales staff, Lonnie Maxwell and Joel Louis, who have been inspiring to staff members during some trying days.

Of course we cannot forget about our photographer, Bob Pickens, for his faithfulness and loyalty.

In addition to the aforementioned responsibilities of the Facts staff, you can also find Virginia, Jean and Vertist in Seattle, typesetting, proofreading, layout, writing and rewriting news, etc. We also give thanks to Curt Smith, our typesetter out of Seattle.

And last but not least gratitude to Liz who does our halftones.

We are proud to be a part of your community, so join with us in our Celebration that we, TACOMA FACTS, might continue to be with you for many more years.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO US!

NBA Criticizes Reagan Policies

Arnette R. Hubbard, president of the National Bar Association, the nation's oldest Black bar association, has sharply criticized the Reagan Administration's recent announcement that the Department of Justice will no longer go into court to win class action suits in job bias cases.

Breaking with past policies, Reagan says that the Justice Department will abandon class action suits and instead will seek "remedies such as back pay, retroactive seniority, reinstatement, hiring and promotional priorities." The Reagan Administration also announced that it will "no longer ...insist upon nor in any respect support the use of numerical or statistical formulas designed to provide non-victims of discrimination preferential treatment based upon race, sex, national origin or religion."

Hubbard contends that abandoning class action suits in combating job bias "is tantamount to a total abdication of the Justice Department's role in enforcing rules against job bias." Hubbard points out that fighting job bias on a case-by-case basis, as the Administration says it will do, "is in effect saying that the Justice Department is giving employers the green light for discrimination against Blacks and other minorities."

"At best," stressed Hubbard, "the Justice Department could only litigate a handful of suits on a case-by-case approach,' whereas through class action suits, hundreds of thousands of cases could be resolved."

Noting that "it should now be clear to all Americans that Reagan is determined to eradicate most aspects of affirmative action from this society," Hubbard believes that "the Administration is embarked upon a systematic course designed specifically not only to eliminate the few gains Blacks have made in the past decade, but moreover to destroy the hopes and aspirations of Blacks for generations yet to come."

Hubbard contends that "the potential harm Reagan's policies pose to Blacks is so devastating that the NBA is planning to call together every major Black national organization for the specific purpose of devising and implementing immediate strategies to thwart Reagan's massive efforts against Blacks and poor people."

Recalling the lead Black lawyers took in the early part of this century in challenging legal segregation in the nation, Hubbard said that "Black lawyers are once again ready, willing and able to utilize their legal expertise to help protect the hopes, aspirations and lives of Black people."

To Be Equal

Rich Nations And Poor Nations

by Vernon E. Jordan, Jr.

There may be few issues of greater importance than helping the poor half of the world achieve economic independence and a measure of prosperity.

Resolution of that issue directly affects the terrible problem of mass hunger, malnutrition, and even starvation in many parts of the world. It affects the continued prosperity of the West. And it even has implications for the dangerous threat of nuclear warfare.

For years, the world's leaders have been groping with the issue. This month's North-South summit meeting at Cancun, Mexico, is another step on the road toward reaching a reasonable solution of the vital economic questions dividing the rich and poor nations.

A lot is riding on the outcome of the Cancun meeting, especially for the poorest of the poor nations -- some 31 countries with a total population nearing 300 million people.

Worldwide, the World Bank estimates that 800 million people live in "absolute poverty." That means pervasive hunger, illiteracy, disease and morality rates virtually unimaginable for the average American.

Those countries have few resources and big problems, especially the high cost of imported oil that makes it next to impossible for them to develop their economies.

Similar problems plague other poor countries, some of which have borrowed heavily to buy food and oil or to initiate development projects, and now find it hard to pay off their creditors.

Many of the poor nations have agitated for a new world economic order, largely consisting of hugh transfers of cash and technology from rich nations to poor nations. Since this has often been accompanied by harsh words against the West, those demands have run into a blank wall.

Now, however, there are fresh voices in the West calling for steps to help develop the economies of the poor nations.

Virginia Taylor's Outside Looking In

A few words about something that's more pressing on my mind than the budget, inflation, cuts, high unemployment - It is the fact that the Supreme Court has agreed to decide whether states can deny pre trial freedom to all accused of certain crimes.

Off hand, to deny bail to persons charged with treason, murder or a serious sex crime seems okay. However, this is unconstitutional because you are innocent until proven guilty, or so I was told. A Federal Appeals Court struck this Nebraska action down - now we must all watch the outcome of this one. If they rule in favor Nebraska then Blacks had better beware, I shouldn';t say just Blacks, All Americans are in danger of losing a portion of the due process we hold so dear. We must guard against preventive detention at any cost.--- prestigious panel that advocated more aid. Former head of the World Bank, Robert McNamara, has urged that development aid on a massive scale is in America's self-interest.

And the new French government has stated that developing the poor nations to the point where they could expand trade with the West is crucial to the future of the economies of the industrial nations.

So there is grwoing recognition that it is in our own self-interest to encourage economic growth throughout the world. The alternative could be mass starvation in the Third World, economic decline of the industrial countries, and even regional wars that escalate into nuclear confrontations between East and West.

But the current Administration still seems to be in international effort to develop the poor nations.

Although its participation at Cancun is a hopeful sign, it has sent strong signals that it would not favor an international Marshall Plan or some similar international effort.

It wants to cut back on foreign aid, restrict it to key countries allied with us, and place greater reliance on private lending and the free market.

Such an approach virtually bars agreements to stabilize prices of raw materials that many poor nations depend on for export earnings.

That is a prescription for continued international strife. It is a reflection of the lack of compassion that has hurt so many America's poor people. And it is shortsighted, neglecting America's long-term interests in a more stable world.

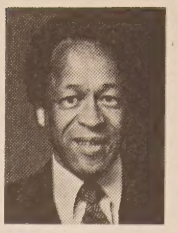
A View from Capitol Hill:

AN INDEPENDENT REPORTS ON WASHINGTON



By Gus Savage
Member of Congress

It is Friday morning, August 14th. I am still in Nairobi, Kenya.

As you may recall, I left the Congressional delegation in Johannesburg, South Africa, Saturday evening last week. I left in protest of the Reagan Administration's open support of racist, anti-Christian facism there -- support for the big American corporations that derive record profits from the extreme economic exploitation, political oppression, and social degradation violently imposed upon the Black majority of that rich land.

But, I am away from that bad experience now, at least physically. I am relaxed and have enjoyed myself in Nairobi for a few days.

I was free of the rest of the delegation and its tight, pre-arranged schedules, which usually run from 7:30 a.m. to almost midnight -- free until they arived last Wednesday morning.

This is no "junket", but it has been worth giving up three weeks of my well-earned vacation -- I hope you are beginning to feel the same way, from the experiences I have so far shared with you.

Last Monday morning, I toured the wildlife preserve, a hugh wilderness, beginning just outside this city and running south all the way into Tanzania. Driving amidst a variety of hooved animals, uncaged in their natural environment, is an almost unbelievable experience, exactly as I have seen Marlin Perkins on TV at home.

I even dared to stand within a few yards of a mighty giraffe, for a photograph. We drove up almost close enough to a herd of zebrs to touch one.

Afterwards, I visited the modest, second-floor offices of the NAIROBI TIMES and the WEEKLY REVIEW, until a few months ago the two indigenously and privately Black-owned news sources in Kenya. One of the other two newspapers here, the STANDARD, is owned by a British corporation; and the NATION is owned by the Paris-based Aga Khan.

Hilary Ngwena, the founder and publisher of the TIMES and the REVIEW, both fine examples of journalism, told me the sad story of his years of struggle and sacrifice to raise sufficient capital to properly develop the venture. It is a story all too familiar to me and to any other Black who ever founded or published a newspaper in the United States.

Unfortunately, to survive, he had to turn ownership over to a non-profit government trust this year. Nonetheless, he appears to manage the business without editorial interference from the trust.

However, it is not unusual for journalists to be jailed for reporting unfavorable about government activities and leaders.

I spent Monday evening in the company of Ngwena's concerned, well-trained and very able editor, Peter Kareithi -- who also has been arrested more than once for tough and true reporting. What began as an interview over steak sandwiches and Kenyan beer, ended in the wee hours as a memorable social occasion, with the additional company of his friend, Miss Wairimu Kanja.

The gracious Wairimu is an American-trained economist and daughter of the outspoken nationalist Member of the Kenyan Parliament, Waruru Kanja. Her father was "detained" in prison last year, the same as was Africa's greatest writer, Ngugi wa Thiong'o, whom I met the next day for lunch.

Incidently, Wairimu gave me her copy of Ngugi's recently published prison diary, entitled, Detained. I treasure this used gift not only because it had been autographed to her by her father, but also because she and Peter autographed it to me.

Next week, I will write about my experiences with Ngugi.

Jean Watley's Who's Who

It gives me great pleasure to look back at this past year and witness from wench I come...As most of you know, Virginia Taylor, Managing Editor of the Facts and myself have been running this paper for the past year. I'm sure you know it was and still isn't easy. But just as it was a year ago, it is todaystill intriguing and full of adventure.

While there was always Vertist Edwards, our Society Editor, and Bob Pickens who stood by us during some trying times, I can't help but look at my partner, Virginia Taylor. This strong determined woman. She taught me a great deal about endurance. We both learned to trust God more because we are very much aware that some of those times things looked grim, we should have fallen, but Thank God, he held us up and led us on.

He used the preachers in the area to unite and join us by advertising in the paper, occupying a complete page. The business directory page grew and grew. These were forms of keep on holding on girls, we believe in you. People began to come from everywhere and put ads in the paper. Yes, it has not been easy, but without the hard times, we would not have known the love and kindness afforded us when we knew no where to get it. Sometimes we questioned our sanity because all doors appeared to be closed, yet God would open one just in time.

A year ago, there were many who critized the FACTS and wanted no part of it and today those attitudes have changed. It something when people who did not want to identify themselves with the Facts, now take pride in saying this is "OUR" voice in the community.

Not has the general public taken a liking to us, but neighboring newspapers like the True Citizens have learned to help one another when they can and that seemingly understood war that was going on appeared to have ceased. The basic attitude of the FACTS is to help and be helped and we have found that it works.

Vertist Edwards is another component to the FACTS, she has always stood by our sides, she has always been gentle and sensitive to our emotional needs giving those soothing words of encoragement. We had no intentions of giving up, but it sure made things easier when you knew someone cared.

There was the time we lost the the bid as the legal publication for Pierce County because we did not have enough paid subscribers and when you read it in the Tribune, the subscriptions, an additional hundred paid subscriptions came through the mail. Thank you Lord.

While that didn't change the minds of the County Commissioner, it did change our minds a little more about how you felt about us. The allegation against the Facts was that we were not a real newspaper, because we had a specific interest group, Blacks, but Ms. Taylor retorted that that if that were true than the TNT must not be a real newspaper, most of their news is about non black people. Of course, I could go on and on about the trials and tribulations of the Tacoma Facts with Virginia and Jean, but like anyother business, there is a list. THANK YOU TACOMA, for your support anyway. We are still alive and well and look forward to your continued support. We Love You...

WILLIE'S HAIR FACTS

Willie Smith can be found at Frederick & Nelson in the Villa Plaza. He comes from Seattle specializing in haircare, cuts, colors, designer curls, California curls, wigs and make up. Look for him bi-monthly bringing you the latest news in beauty care.

Willie Smith

There is a salon service that has been becoming ever more popular. It is one of the nicest nservices one can do for themselves. I am speaking of skin care.

For many years the beauty salon had forgotten about skin care and cosmetics as a vital services for its clients. Consequently the largest volume of cosmetics and skin care projects are being sold in department and drug stores.

This fact brings us to a very important point-in fact two. Usually, and I say usually because there are exceptions, the person standing behind the cosmetic counter has had very little formal education when it comes to skin care and cosmetics. They are usually trained by a manufacture and consequently are at their mercy of what is fact and what is not. These department store cosmetic people generally know very little when it comes to true skin care. The same can be said for the person that goes door to door pushing their product.

The second fact is that most products that are sold over the counter are massed produced to meet the consumer demand. When the product is produced in this matter there is a far better chance that the quality drops.

In the state of Washington in order for a person to work in a beauty salon he or she must complete a full year of formal training in the care of hair and skin. That is why our field is called Cosmetology. We are taught much about the skin and its proper care. Although we are not dermatolgists, we do work with this part of the medical profession on many occasions.

I am fortunate to be working in a salon that offers a complete skin care system. It is important for the black man and woman to be more concerned with their skin. Within the past few years there has been so many new developments in the field of hair care for the black person, and now the same holds true with skin care. Go to your salon and ask about a skin analysis and if you're a lady ask about the proper makeup and application.

Get a complete facial and I promise you, you will feel like a new person.

Prayer Poem

Those familiar with Howard University's Rankin Chapel may not know that Jeremiah Eames Rankin (1828-1904), after whom the chapel was named, was a hymn writer and poet.

Dr. Rankin pastored in Vermont and in Orange, New Jersey, before going to Howard University as its president in 1889. His famous prayer poem, "God be with you till we meet again" speaks of our abiding concern for one another.

God be with you till we meet again;
By his counsels guide, uphold you,
With his sheep securely fold you:
God be with you till we meet again.

Refrain:
Till we meet, till we meet,
Till we meet at Jesus' feet;
Till we meet, till we meet;
God be with you till we meet again.

God be with you till we meet again;
Daily manna still provide you,
'Neath his wings protecting hide you:
God be with you till we meet again.

We are bound together in God's love.

In the fellowship of our church or temple, we find a foretaste of God's fellowship of eternal love and life.

MAGNOLIA IZONA ARMSTRONG

Mrs. Magnolia I. Armstrong, 61, of 717 East 34th was born September 4, 1920 to Isaac and Charity (Singleton) Armstrong in Robeline, Louisiana, both parents precede her in death. She joined them early Thursday morning, September 24, 1981 from Allenmore Hospital in Tacoma, Washington.

She was baptised at an early age at the Mt. Common Baptist Church in Marthaville, Louisiana. She joined the Shiloh Baptist Church where she served on the Senior Usher Board. She was a member of the Puget Sound United Ushers. She loved church work, her family, cooking and plants. Her sons and daughters remember that she never complained about her troubles, and that she was a "loving mother, the best anyone could have".

Those whose lives she brightened during her sojourn on earth include eight daughters; Ms. Shirley Bibbs and Miss Frances Armstrong both of Tacoma, Ms. Mary Lou Norwood and Ms. Mary Lynn Sowell both of Los Angeles, California, Miss Missouri Holbert of Dallas, Texas, Ms. Gladys Johnson of Lamarque, Texas, Ms. Lee-Anna Evans of Muldraugh, Kentucky and Miss Carolyn Armstrong of Puerto Rico. Beside his mother, those whose lives he brightened include one daughter Denise of Tacoma, two sons, James M. of Tacoma and Tracy of Seattle, one sister Billy (Sandy) Milus of the home, five brothers, Arvid Terry of Great Falls, Montana, Messrs. Willie, David, Matthew and Curtis all of the Tacoma.

Tacoma City Association: Black Clubwomen On The Move

The members of the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs, some two-hundred women strong and led by their progressive and enlightened President, Mrs. Clara M. Cox have recently launched a two-pronged, ambitious drive designed to strengthen and expand their Fifty-year old organization for future generations of civic- and community-minded Black women here in Tacoma.

The Executive Board of the City Association at their September meeting approved and adopted a Proposed Plan for the activation of an Ad Hoc Fundraising Committee which will undertake to raise the necessary funds to continue the many programs and services of the City Association. The Fund Drive will, in additon, provide the necessary funds for the extensive repairs needed on the Colored Women's Clubhouse located at 2316 South Yakima Street and for the refurnishing of the kitchens and the meeting halls of the building. The Clubhouse has had no major remodeling since it was first built and dedicated in 1970.

Mrs. Cox recently introduced a new facet to the Fund Drive by announcing a Membership Drive to be held simultaneously; both drives to extend throughout the 1981-82 Club Year which ends next June. This Membership Drive is an effort to expand and extend the existing membership of the City Association and to add at least three new Clubs to the Association roster. Mrs. Cox stated in a recent meeting of the Ad Hoc Fundraising Committee that "There are many women in Tacoma; young, older, and middle-aged who have the talent, the resources and the desire to serve their community and who are interested in joining our organization. It is these women whom we wish to contact and to encourage to join us in our efforts to 'Lift-as-we-climb' as Black Clubwomen."

Because of the lack of funds for the initial phase of our Fund Drive, the members of the Ad Hoc Committee inaugurated the search for "Seed-Money" with a unique idea...that of soliciting the help of a given number of Patrons who would provide the monies for the launching of a "Dream". The dream of raising $1,000.00 by December 1, 1981 and the grand total of $6,000.00 by September 1, 1982. These Patrons will be known as "The Golden Angels". "Angels" because they are Heaven-sent to us in our time of need. "Golden" because of the donations of money they are kind enough to give. The response from our "Angels" has been overwhelming and generous. More than $300.00 has been raised, so far. And at least 23 patrons have pledged donations within the next 30 days. We are grateful for their support and will honor them publicly at a later date.

"The Golden Angels" Patrons will be further honored with a plaque on which their names will be inscribed and which will be prominently displayed in the Clubhouse for public view. ALL patrons who contribute will be honored with a public reception at which they will be lauded for their support of this fundraising project. (Monies and provisions for the Plaque and the reception will be donated and/or underwritten by local businessmen who have voluntarily donated these services.)

In conjunction with the plans for an extended Membership Drive there will be an Open - House and Get - Acquainted Tea and Reception held each month for the next 10 months. The first of these Open House Activities will be held this coming Sunday at the Clubhouse at the address given above. Remember the date--Sunday, October 11, 1981 from 1-4 p.m. at the City Association Clubhouse. The public is cordially invited. Black women who are interested in learning more about the City Association are especially encouraged to join us. Bring your family and your friends. We look forward to meeting and greeting each of you.

There are currently seven member clubs of the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs. The primary function of each of them is to provide and to promote the interests of Black Women with activities of a Christian, Social, Civic and Community-Services nature. These clubs include: The Asberry Cultural Club; The Clara Cox Heritage Club; The Irene Gaines Improvement Club; The McCabe Twenty; The Stafford Study Club; The Matron's Club; and the W.C.T.U.

The Ad Hoc Fundraising Committee Members are: Kathryn C. Thomas, General Chairwoman; Ella R. Capers, Finance Sub-chairwoman; Theresa Rice, Records Subchairwoman; Minnie E. Miller, Planning/Arragnements; Natalie Leath, Program; Freddie M. Barnett, Publications; Jean Grant, Scholarship Chairwoman: Harriet Wilson, Chaplain; and Ester Antoine; Building and Grounds. This committee will also sponsor the monthly Open-House. Hostesses for this week are: Mary Holland, Sue Harris, Janabea Wilson, Debra King, Ozie Allen and Katherine Lewis. Guest speaker is Mrs. Clara M. Cox.

Watch this space in the Tacoma Facts each week for more information about the Origins and the history of The Tacoma City Association. For information on how to join and if you wish to donate to our Fund Drive, please call 535-4492 in Tacoma.

Malcolms Sports Report

The regular Baseball is over. The Mariners won their last game. I hope that is a sign of what to expect next year. Taking a look at this month you can see Baseball, Football and Basketball. October is the only month this happens. So sit back and enjoy. World series prediction: New York Yankees and the Houston Astros. Houston to win. I'am going to take Miami and Dallas in the Super Bowl Miami to win it all. The Seahawks lost another 1 yarder. The Huskies ran into some competition last week, but they will get their act together hopefully. Washington State is still doing it. Their schedule is going to get tougher from now on, then we will find out if they can hang with the best...U.S.C. What about U.P.S Loggers unbeaten and untied. Keep up the good work fellas. Foss showed they were still in top form when they blasted the lions last week. South Kitsap must have a power house, they are playing like,'Hey we are the best in the Narrows league this year'. Talking with Mat Doss of Wilson the other day, he says they are the team to beat. We didn't even get ranked so Bremerton is going to pay. They did. So I told Matt when they play South Kitsap Wolves I will be there. TN Miller won againg on the arm of Rick Solataire and his excellent receivers....The Boys Club got back on the winning tract by beating Bethel 15 to 7. In the Junior High bracket it looks like Hunt and Baker are the Kingpins. We will keep a eye on the two of them. The Rains have started so everybody sat back and enjoyed the playoffs in Baseball. Come on Houston! If you have any questions or answers drop me a line. Malcolm, 1019 S. 12th St., Tacoma, WA. 98405. P.S. What about Stadium Bowl trying to fall in Commencement Bay. The Tigers have enough problems without that. Go and get them Ronald!
